Andrei Anghel

Dear Friends,
Thank you so much for being with me during all these years. I could not be here without your help and support!
The journey started in 2010 and it has been amazing. This year, I had the privilege of performing at fantastic venues: Barbican Hall, Westminster Cathedral and Uxbridge Music Festival in June.
On the 12 of May I competed for Lutine Competition, one of the most prestigious musical competitions in London.
In December this year I have auditions for Royal Academy of Music, Guildhall Conservatoire and Birmingham Conservatoire.
Thank you again for making this possible!
Musically yours!

Andrei Anghel

Accademia / Artstur has supported Andrei for more than 5 years from when he was a student at Wells College of Music. We have always contributed to his piano lessons whereas his scholarships have been for his violin tuition.
Our help has proved vital for his career as it is with the piano where he has become an outstanding musician and where his future lies.

Vercillo-Fischer Duo in the presence of the famous composer Clive Jenkins

To celebrate their 20th anniversary, the Vercillo-Fisher duo has been touring both in Italy and in England with a selected choice of pieces to maximise their versatility. Tonight they will celebrate the 80th birthday of the English composer Clive Jenkins who will attend the concert and they will perform, for the first time in the UK, the Corale No.1 per pianoforte e violino by Italian composer Father Paolo Padrini.

Giorgio Vercillo teaches violin at the Conservatoire of Alessandria. In 2007 he won the Paris Concours Musical de France. He has recorded many CDs and he is a fine interpreter of Chopin.

Peter Fisher is the musical director of the Chamber Ensemble of London and regularly plays in major venues in the UK and around the world.

The concert has been sponsored by Domenico Meliti, CEO of EMD Group and Father Paolo Padrini, director of The Perosi Festival 2018.
